Bilateral Meetings

- Tuesday 10:00 - 16:00

Description

Omnipack Cluster is engaging itself in development of environmentally friendly packaging materials, state-of-the-art packaging technology solutions and proactive international presence. We are real advocates of environment friendly packaging materials based on biodegradable biopolymers, their technological development and widespread dissemination. The members of the cluster are primarily producers of the packaging technology sector as well as companies serving it and peripherally linked to it. Our cluster is considered as a dynamic strategic association which is a living example of an efficient and innovative cooperation of SME's, big companies and researchers resulting further growth for our cluster members. Omnipack Cluster also serves as a knowledge center of market players engaged in environmentally friendly packaging material.
